

AT CLELIAN HEIGHTS SCHOOL

STUDENTS LEARN AND PARTNER WITH THE COMMUNITY

Here we are practicing TRANSITION-TO-WORK AND INDEPENDENT-LIVING SKILLS FROM HOME during DISTANCE LEARNING TIME..
Cooking, washing, folding, ironing clothes-It's a snap!

STUDENTS' VOLUNTEER AND USE THEIR WORK AND INDEPENDENT LIVING SKILLS AT HOME AND IN THE COMMUNITY

Caring and Thoughtful...Contagious Smiles... Compassionate and Joyful...

These words describe our students as they assist many small businesses and service groups in our local community through their Transition-to-Work Program.

Students reach out in service and they do it with heart, with an inner spirit of joy, with a growing sense of independence and self-responsibility and with a trust and security in knowing that they will have assistance from staff, family, and friends. With the combination of self-motivation and encouraging support, they feel good about what they do and who they are as contributing members of the community.

You might see Clelian Heights students at work sorting or hanging clothes, doing light cleaning and dusting, computer and clerical work; distributing meals, preparing bulk mailings, involved in dining room set-up or dietary or laundry assistance, sorting food and packing boxes; feeding, watering, and caring for horses; distributing food samples, washing cars, visiting and reading to nursing home residents.

All these volunteer activities take place in the local community: In Murrysville, at Thriftique thrift shop, at Mother of Sorrows School and Food Pantry, at Cornerstone Ministries or at the Delmont Library; In Greensburg, at Tri-City Meals on Wheels, the Christian Layman Corps, The Westmoreland Food Bank, at Christ Episcopal Church, the Greensburg Library, St. Emma Retreat Center, the Westmoreland Municipal Garage, Horseman's Hidaway, the First Lutheran Church of Greensburg, at Charitas Christi Center; In the Westmoreland Mall at Villa Pizza, Auntie Annie's, and Barbara Ann's Country Home Furnishings.
