Dear Friends at Clelian Heights,

It is truly my joy to congratulate you on the 50th anniversary of Clelian Heights. You know well that Clelian Heights has a most special place in my heart, not only because of the many years I spent there but also because of the unique way in which it embodies the spirit of our Foundress, Mother Clelia Merloni, through the committed witness of the sisters, the loving dedication of the staff, families, and friends, and the joyful simplicity of our students.

I extend my congratulations particularly to those being honored on this occasion: Charles and Cecelia Decker, Charles Demangone, Lawrence Demangone, Dennis and Alicia Harter, Philip X. Masciantonio, PhD, Monsignor William R. Rathgeb, JCL, Carol Sue Rocker and Sam Wholey. Your generous gifts of service and resources to Clelian Heights through the years have enabled it to flourish and expand to meet the growing needs of our time. I am most grateful to you for your part in furthering the mission of Clelian Heights as well as that of the entire Congregation of the Apostles of the Sacred Heart of Jesus.

I am so happy to be able to be present with all of you today in celebration on this joyful occasion. May the Sacred Heart, to whose honor we dedicate our lives and ministry, bless you abundantly today and always.

In His Heart,

Mother M. Clare Millea, ASCJ
Superior General

Dear Friends of Clelian Heights,

Your presence at the Fiftieth Anniversary Banquet for Clelian Heights honors us as we commemorate the contributions of so many people over these momentous years. Thank you for your participation in this celebration, and for all you have contributed to Clelian's amazing growth and mission.

No one can visit Clelian Heights without being permeated by a sense of joy in meeting the students and adult clients, as well as dedicated administrators, teachers, aides and other professionals. Of course, the special atmosphere of caring, respect and delight in the many gifts of each individual was instilled fifty years ago by Sr. Celine Ruggeri, first Director, and the original sister Apostles of the Sacred Heart. Following the charism of their foundress, Clelia Merloni these pioneers in special education instilled the love of the Sacred Heart in every aspect of the lives of their students and co-workers. As a matter of fact, Clelian Heights was initiated in honor of Mother Clelia on her 100th birth anniversary, and undoubtedly has been the focus of her loving attention over these years.

It is my honor to congratulate the honorees of this year's Heart to Heart Banquet: Charles and Cecelia Decker, Charles Demangone, Lawrence Demangone, Dennis and Alicia Harter, Philip X. Masciantonio, PhD, Monsignor William R. Rathgeb, JCL, Carol Sue Rocker and Sam Wholey. Their generous service over many years has contributed greatly to the unique character of Clelian Heights, providing a richer life for all who have been served here. May their lives, and yours, be filled with the abundant joy that flows from the Heart of Christ through the wonderful hearts of those who join to make Clelian Heights a vibrant, caring environment that fosters the full personal development of each person.

United in the Heart of Christ,

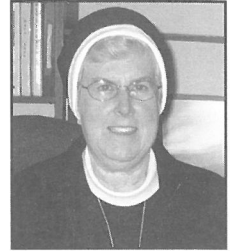

A. Maureen Martin, ASCJ

Dear Friends of Clelian Heights

We come together to celebrate the goodness and love of God that has been bestowed on all at Clelian Heights during the past 50 years. The commitment of the staff, parents, benefactors, and friends and their continued interest is why we have been able to be here for fifty-years providing care, education, and training to God's special children and adults.

Celebrating our 50th Anniversary is cause for great joy! During these years we have been able to accomplish many of the dreams that the pioneers of Clelian Heights had when the school was first opened. Those of you who have been associated with us during these years have seen the growth that has taken place beginning with the original white house and growing into a campus of many buildings. This growth is attributed to our common efforts. My hope is strengthened by your on-going generosity of dedication and service.

May our children and adults of yesterday, today, and tomorrow forever take pride in their past and look forward to an ever better future with hope and joy.

With prayerful remembrance,

Charles and Cecelia Decker

Charles and Cecelia Decker became aware of Clelian Heights in 1961 when their son Charles Henry Decker Jr. was born. 'Chip' was enrolled in 1966 and the Deckers became actively involved in life at Clelian Heights. Charles became the Scout Master of Clelian Heights' Boy Scout Troop #413. It was the first special education troop to camp at Camp Conestoga for a full week of camping. A trip that he would repeat for ten years! Cecelia, a registered nurse, volunteered as on-call school nurse for many years. Together they also volunteered as drivers accompanying and caring for students on field trips and at all the Special Olympics events. Their daughter Janice also became involved in activities at Clelian Heights. She chose education as her career field and recently earned her doctorate. Janice continues to volunteer her talents.

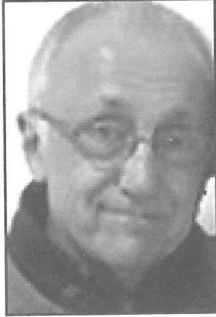

Charles received his CLU designation from Purdue University, graduated from St. Vincent College with a BS degree in business administration and finance following his discharge from the US Navy. He was employed by Northwestern Mutual Life in 1952 and recently retired in 2010 after a 58 year career. Charles has received the Service to Boyhood, Boy Scouts of America award in 1981 and the Bishop G. Connare Award for his service to youth. Charles served as a Clelian Heights' Advisory Board Member from 1993 until 2008.

Cecelia attended Seton Hill College and the University of Pittsburgh and graduated from Westmoreland Hospital School of Nursing, where she also became an employee. Later she moved to the operating room as a surgical nurse and then to the office of Dr. Frank Perrone as his surgical nurse. Cecelia was active in the Westmoreland Area Nurse's Association and the St. Luke Society. She retired from nursing at the end of the 1980's.

After a brief illness in 1980, Chip went home to heaven joining his younger brother Todd. In fulfilling his dream, the Decker's, the sisters, and the whole community raised funds for Chip's House - a place where his friends could stay at Clelian, live together, and work at the Clelian Center. Charles and Cecelia have served the community in various organizations including the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts of America, the St. Vincent DePaul Society, and their home parish of Our Lady of Grace Church in Greensburg. They have been married for nearly 61 years. They are known for their love of family and friends and for helping others in need. They feel that Sr. Celine and all the compassionate past and present sisters of Clelian Heights have left a lasting impression on their understanding of the special needs ministry.

Charles Demangone, M.Ed.

Charles Demangone met Sr. Celine through his brothers Richard and Larry. Ricky was a student and Larry, a teacher at Clelian Heights. In 1972 as the school expanded, Charles joined the staff teaching high school age students. As the curriculum developed, Charles took on a leadership role transitioning his students into vocational activities. In the late 70's when the workshop was licensed as the Clelian Center, he served as a job coach taking care and personal interest in training the students he had grown to know and love so well. As the Clelian Center grew, Charles became production manager in charge of contracted work with local industry. His efforts to insure a pleasant and enjoyable work environment, safe and productive work habits, quality control and a high level of production made both happy and satisfied customers and employees. In total, Charles spent 34 years at Clelian Heights dedicating himself to making the quality of life ever better for children and adults with disabilities.

Charles graduated with a BS from St. Vincent College and later earned a master's of education from the Indiana University of Pennsylvania. His teaching experience includes Pittsburgh Public Schools, the Diocese of Greensburg parochial schools, Allegheny County Community College, Seton Hill University, St. George's School, Granada, B&G English School, Jeju, South Korea, Qinhuangdao Institute of Technology, China, Chinese People's Public Security University, Beijing, China.

Currently, Charles resides in China teaching English to adult students at Zhejiang International Studies University in Hangzhou. As he says, "This is my life in China. It is not just teaching English, but living with the people and teaching them how to live with a positive attitude. Many students are trained to memorize facts in order to pass the next exam. I teach them to be creative and think for themselves. It is a new experience for most of them."

Born in New Derry, PA, Charles is an accomplished musician. He shares his love of music and Clelian Heights with his brother, Lawrence, another Heart to Heart honoree.

Lawrence Demangone, M.Ed.

Lawrence Demangone began his teaching career here at Clelian Heights in 1970 by invitation of Sister Celine Ruggeri, the founding executive director. As additional classrooms were needed Sr. Celine was very careful in her selection of staff. She was very impressed with the Demangone family's involvement in education and the family values they lived. She was pleased to welcome Lawrence and later, Charles, to the growing faculty.

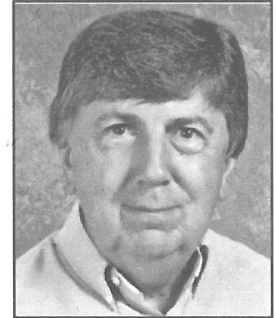

Lawrence has dedicated the past 41 years to this special ministry at Clelian Heights. He says that even though he was offered other jobs through the years, he would never trade them for what he was doing here at Clelian Heights.

Lawrence has had several roles here at Clelian Heights. He began as teacher of the very youngest group. He showed tremendous patience and loving, gentle care for each child. He applauded every step forward knowing that success was gradual and needed to be appreciated and encouraged. For many years he also taught all the music classes which included annual Christmas and spring performances and, in the '80's and '90's, accompanying the Clelian Singers on the road. He still continues as school organist for weekly masses.

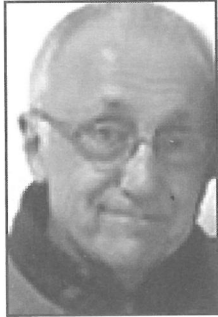

Lawrence is presently a training specialist and job coach in the Clelian Center where he continues to show that same patience, encouragement, and love that he is known for. He takes great satisfaction from seeing his former students continuing to mature and succeed as responsible adults.

Lawrence went to St. Vincent Prep and then earned a BA in music education from St. Vincent College. He did graduate work in music at Duquesne University and later earned a master's degree in special education there.

Lawrence lives in New Derry and like his brother Charles, is an accomplished musician. He became a parish organist at age 13 playing 3 masses a day for seven years at St. Simon and Jude parish in Blairsville, PA. and continuing his music ministry through the years. He now plays at St. Vincent and St. John the Baptist parishes in Latrobe. He has shared his talent with numerous parishes around the Diocese of Greensburg and in the Pittsburgh area as well.

Dennis and Alicia Harter

Dennis “Dewey” and Alicia Harter came to Clelian Heights in January of 1992 to become the residential supervisors at Chip’s House, the residence for men. Since then, Clelian Heights has been their home and Chip’s House an inviting and happy place to live for the men under their care. Dewey and Alicia have made it a haven for the men, many of whom have been with them these past 19 years.

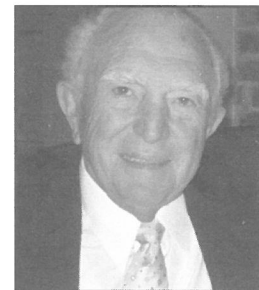

In addition to working at Chip’s House, Dewey and Alicia have been involved in the Clelian Heights ministry in many ways and so have worn many ‘hats’ over the years. Alicia spent three years as a coordinator at the Clelian Center and nearly four years as development director. She is a graduate of Albertus Magnus College, New Haven, Connecticut.

Dewey is a hands-on person who likes challenges and so he has involved himself in both facilities maintenance and computer technology. Dewey assists wherever needed with special facilities projects calling for patience and know-how. He also oversees all Chip’s House maintenance. In addition, he is the IT person for Clelian Heights. His responsibilities include all software upgrades, technology purchases and installations for both the MAC and PC operations. He finds himself very busy keeping up with all that is happening in the world of computer and software changes and growth.

Dewey is originally from Harlan, Indiana and Alicia hails from Brooklyn, NY. The pair met while employed at Covenant House in Manhattan, New York. There, they helped homeless and runaway youth. Dennis and Alicia married in 1988.

They say their experience here at Clelian challenges them to see and live with their hearts just as the French author Antoine de Saint-Exupéry has expressed it in his book, The Little Prince: “It is only with the heart that one can see rightly; what is essential is invisible to the eye.”

Philip X. Masciantonio, Ph.D.

It's nearly 15 years that Philip Masciantonio began serving as an Advisory Board member for Clelian Heights and for the last two years he was Board Chairperson. Phil first became acquainted with Clelian Heights through mutual friends whose children attended the school. The experience he has gained by serving on several community and foundation boards has made his guidance an invaluable blessing for our board. Over the years Phil has developed a deep appreciation of the positive impact made by Clelian Heights on the local community.

Philip attended St. Vincent College where he earned a BS in chemistry and went on to earn an MS and PhD in chemistry from Carnegie Mellon. In the 1980's, he was also awarded an honorary Doctorate in chemistry from St. Vincent College.

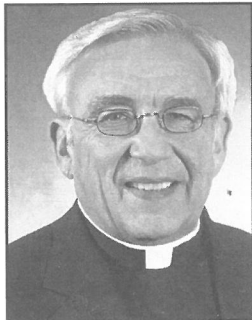

After several years of working for industries such as Robertshaw Controls and Pittsburgh Coke & Chemical Company, Philip joined the US Steel Corporation where he worked as vice president of environment and energy until his retirement in 1992.

Philip has been a member of the Knights of Columbus, the Holy Name Society, the Elliott Company Foundation Board and the Concurrent Technologies Corp. Foundation Board. He served 10 years on the Jeannette District Memorial Hospital Board and also served on the Jeannette Umbrella Group Board.

Phil is a true family man and outdoorsman who, with help from his children, is occupied in his retirement with their horse farm, Briarfield Stables. Phil's son, Christopher and wife Kelly, and Phil's daughter, Judith and husband John Morrison, are all involved at the Stables.

He and wife, Dolores, have raised five children, Michael, Daniel, Judith, Francis and Christopher. He likes to keep himself busy with other outdoor activities as well as fishing, gardening and golf.

Monsignor William R. Rathgeb, JCL

Monsignor William Rathgeb's ties with Clelian Heights began long before he was assigned to be the school's chaplain in 1991. Rathgeb Dairy provided milk and even calves (one named Vincent De Paul) to Clelian Heights when it first opened in 1961. It was his father who first introduced him to the pioneer sisters who began the ministry.

Monsignor Rathgeb became Clelian Heights' chaplain 30 years later while serving in the diocesan Tribunal. He resided at Clelian for 13 years until his present assignment to Caritas Christi Center as chaplain.

Monsignor continues to serve on Clelian Heights Advisory Board. He says his experiences at Clelian Heights gave him the opportunity to become very close to God's very special people including the sisters and the staff. He often returns to visit and celebrate Mass as time permits. He considers Clelian Heights to be one of the important treasures of the Diocese. "It's daily ministry is to serve the needs of very special people whose love and appreciation is a real example to us of the beauty of Christian living."

Monsignor Rathgeb attended Penn State University, St. Jerome College, Kitchner, Ontario, St. Vincent Seminary, Latrobe, earning a masters in divinity, The Catholic University of America, Washington, D.C., earning a master of Church administration and later, JCL, a degree in Canon Law. He has served the Diocese of Greensburg since his ordination in 1967. He has spent the last 20 years as the Judicial Vicar for the Diocese of Greensburg. In 2005 he was named a monsignor by Bishop Lawrence Brandt.

When the opportunity arises, Monsignor enjoys traveling. He has two brothers who are here celebrating with him tonight, John and his wife, Brenda, from Maryland, as well as Thomas and his wife, Jody, from Virginia.

Carol Sue Rocker

Carol Sue Rocker has been a friend and supporter of Clelian Heights since 1970. She has lived in Yukon, Pennsylvania her entire life. She has never met a stranger.

After attending Seton Hill College and graduating from Robert Morris Business School, Carol Sue focused her 60-plus year career on the family business — the Yukon-Waltz Telephone Company. She served as the Company's secretary and also president until her retirement at the end of 2009.

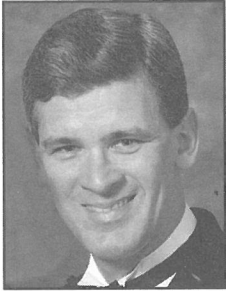

Throughout her life, Carol Sue has been active in community organizations. She served in multiple roles for Jeannette District Memorial Hospital including Auxiliary president, Board of Directors member and Gift Shop volunteer.

Carol Sue is currently a member of the Westmoreland County Community College Education Foundation Board and the Clelian Heights' Advisory Board.

For many years she has been active with the Sisters of Charity and their annual flea market fundraiser. Carol Sue is also a lifelong member of Seven Dolours Roman Catholic Church in Yukon.

Carol Sue survives her parents John and Ethel, and siblings Ethel Sue and John. She enjoys spending time with her family including her sister in law, Connie Rocker; her nieces and nephews, Milissa Rocker Klotz and Craig Klotz, Mara and Matt Vasile, John and Denise Rocker and Daniel Rocker. She is extremely proud of her great nieces, Madeline and Sydney Klotz and great nephew, Noah Rocker.

Sam Wholey

Sam Wholey became familiar with Clelian Heights through his father, Robert Wholey who was a dear friend to Sister Marietta and a supporter of Clelian Heights. For several summers since 1975, at Sam's suggestion, the Robert Wholey Co. sponsored a barbeque for the Clelian children and Sam and his brothers and sisters were on hand cooking the delicious barbeque chicken. As a student at Duquesne University, Sam participated in a special education practicum at Clelian. When the Clelian Heights Advisory Board was formed, Robert Wholey was invited as a member. Business obligations kept him from full participation and soon Sam was nominated to the Board.

For 36 years Sam has been actively involved in Clelian's ministry. His role on the Advisory Board Planned-Giving Committee in the mid-90's led to The Wholey Old-Fashioned Chicken Barbecue as an annual fund-raising activity for the school and it has been a successful family event ever since.

Sam is currently the vice president and secretary of Robert Wholey Co., Inc. in sales and marketing. He is a graduate of Duquesne University with a BS in elementary and special education. He is also a graduate of courses in human relations, business management and sales.

Sam and wife, Jeannette, reside in the Franklin Park area of Pittsburgh with their son, Benjamin. In the community, Sam is a board member of Neighbors in the Strip. He is a member of the Institute for Entrepreneurial Excellence with the Joseph M. Katz Graduate School of Business at the University of Pittsburgh.

Sam enjoys family life. He and Ben often take long-distance bicycling trips. He also enjoys scuba diving, dancing, gardening and traveling with his family. A hobby of Sam's is his 1940 Packard Businessman's Coupe and his membership in the Antique Car Club.
